Michigan Will Continue On Eastern Standard Time

LANSING (AP) — Michigan apparently will continue on Eastern Standard Time this summer, exempt from a 1966 federal law to set clocks ahead for six months of each year.

The House of Representatives Tuesday passed 64-43 and gave immediate effect to the controversial exemption measure. The Senate has passed the bill and was expected to give it the necessary immediate effect today. The bill then will go to Gov. George Romney.

Rep. Joseph Kowalski, D-Detroit, served notice Tuesday he would ask today for reconsideration of the vote by which the anti-daylight Saving Time bill passed. But other House members said there was little chance the result would be overturned. If the bill is not given immediate effect and signed by the governor this month, Michigan residents will be required by the federal act to set their clocks ahead one hour each April 30 and back an hour each Oct. 31. A bill ordinarily does not become law until 90 days after the Legislature adjourns for the year, but the time bill would have been useless without immediate effect because Congress required states which did not want Savings Time to act before April 1.

Only 64 of the 110 House members voted for the bill but 10 opponents bowed to the majority and gave the needed two-thirds majority on a separate vote for immediate effect.

Thirty Democrats and 13 Republicans voted against the bill — voting in effect for Saving

Time — while 22 Democrats and 42 Republicans voted for the bill.

Opponents of the measure said going on Daylight Saving Time during the summer would "keep Michigan in time with the Eastern Seaboard" and help the economy by giving businesses which deal with the eastern cities more time each day to do it. Those favoring it said farmers would have an extra working hour each day — from the time morning moisture dries until quitting time — if the state avoided Daylight Time.

Other opponents of Saving Time noted Michigan, geographically, is in the Central Time Zone, although it keeps Eastern time. Eastern Saving Time, they said, would amount to "double-fast time."

Airman From Soo Dies In Vietnam

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Defense Department said Tuesday Staff Sgt. Andrew Trapani, son of Sam Trapani, 1828 Buchanan Ave., Grand Rapids, was killed in action in Vietnam.

Airman 1.c. Robert E. Johnson, husband of Mrs. Julie Johnson, 535 Division St., Sault Ste. Marie, was listed as died not as a result of hostile action.

Yank Da Nang Base Attacked By Red Rockets

SAIGON (AP) — Communist gunners firing from a maximum range of seven miles unloaded 15 big rockets on the giant U.S. air base at Da Nang today and had to flee under a hail of return fire less than a minute later.

Stung by a similar rocket attack on the base two and a half weeks ago, the Marines were alert for this one. Radar-directed gunfire was being laid on the Red launching positions within 120 seconds of the first explosion inside the base, U.S. spokesman reported.

Helicopter gunships pounced on the Red positions. Flare ships unloaded 125 parachute flares. Two of the twin-engine C47s called "Puff the Magic Dragon" because of their special Gatling guns sprayed the Red positions with a .50,700 rounds of incendiary ammunition.

The Communists' 160mm Soviet rocket, the biggest in their arsenal, damaged three U.S. planes and injured 16 American soldiers.

A U.S. spokesman announcing the casualties admitted somewhat sheepishly that technically none were wounded.

"There was a sort of mad dash for the bunkers up there," he said. "The casualties were all sprained backs, scraped knees and things like that. That is why we used the word injured."

The three planes will be repaired, the spokesman said.

Secretary Hare Leaves Hospital

LANSING (AP) — Secretary of State James Hare was discharged Tuesday from Lanning's Edward W. Sparrow Hospital after undergoing surgery for removal of a spinal disc. He is expected to convalesce at home for up to four weeks. Hare said he will handle his duties of office from his home during that time.

Swear-Off Of Johnson And Bobby Fuels Feud

WASHINGTON (AP) — Denials by the White House and Sen. Robert F. Kennedy of a cussword confrontation on Vietnam between President Johnson and the senator Feb. 8 have heightened their hostility.

Each camp privately was accusing members of the other of leaking distorted information that made both the President and the New York Democrat look bad.

Some of the President's associates were ready to blame the

Quarrel

CAMBRIDGE, Mass. (AP) — Republican Gov. George Romney of Michigan says the split between President Johnson and Sen. Robert F. Kennedy, D-N.Y., indicates "there are sharp and significant differences" within the Democratic party.

Romney, on a three-day visit to the Kennedy Institute of Politics at Harvard, refused Tuesday to get into the question of Vietnam policy over which Johnson and Kennedy have had differences.

Johnson's men for the version of the encounter that Time magazine pieced together.

The senator's associates noted that three of the four persons present at the White House session — after Kennedy returned from a European tour during which there was much talk that he was bringing home a peace feeler — were administration officials.

Four Present

The four were the President, Kennedy, Undersecretary of State Nicholas Katzenbach — a former Kennedy associate — and presidential assistant Walt W. Rostow.

Rostow and Kennedy denied separately that the tone and the particulars of the meeting depicted by Time were accurate.

Time said Johnson castigated Kennedy for his criticism of the President's Vietnam policies. It said Johnson told the senator, "If you keep talking like this, you won't have a political future in this country within six months. In six months, all you doves will be destroyed."

Deny Cut-Off

Time said Kennedy replied by calling Johnson an a.s.o.b., adding, "I don't have to sit here and take that —."

Kennedy backed up White House press secretary George Christian's denial that Johnson told Kennedy he never wanted to see him again.

There was no attempt by Kennedy to discount the fact that the meeting with Johnson had been stormy. But he said it had not been nearly so explosive as was depicted.

He and Johnson shook hands last week at the swearing in of Ramsey Clark as attorney general.

President And Lady Bird Meet In Dixie Tours

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — President Johnson, marking the 200th birthday of Andrew Jackson in an area where states rights often has been a political issue, lauded Jackson today for believing "the national government represented the people, not the states."

In an address prepared for delivery at Jackson's home — the Hermitage — Johnson said this belief of the seventh president "triumphed in his time."

But he said "the torch of union" which Jackson lit spattered out under later presidents. Otherwise, he said, "we might well have avoided the holocaust of Civil War."

Johnson, making an early morning flight here from Washington, scheduled three formal speeches in Tennessee — his first outside Washington since his Asian tour last fall.

Some regional leaders of the Democratic party have been urging the chief executive to undertake more speech-making trips around the country.

In Tennessee, the President joined his touring wife to appear at the Hermitage, address a joint session of the Tennessee Legislature on Vietnam and help dedicate a new community college at Columbia, 50 miles from Nashville.

In his Hermitage talk, Johnson said that Jackson "began an era of competitive political activity, based on the ideal of the citizen as a full participant in the life of the community."

This task remains unfinished, he said.

"We are still attempting to eliminate all the discriminatory barriers that deny any citizen a part in the process of government," he said. "We are still striving to involve poor, the deprived, the forgotten American, white and Negro, in the future of their society."

Johnson said Jackson looked on the federal government as "the supreme political body in the nation" rather than a league of states.

He noted that Jackson habitually would say "the United States is" at a time when many were saying "the United States are."

Says Meet Of Conspirators Planned Escape

NEW ORLEANS, La. (AP) — Perry Raymond Russo, who testified he heard Lee Harvey Oswald and two others plot to assassinate President John F. Kennedy, faces cross-examination today by defense lawyers.

Counsel for Clay L. Shaw, the wealthy businessman arrested by Dist. Atty. Jim Garrison on a charge of conspiring with Oswald and David W. Ferrie to murder Kennedy, put off their questions Tuesday until they could study scholastic and business records of Russo.

Before court reopened, mystery surrounding this "confidential informant" thickened.

— Russo, 25, an insurance salesman from Baton Rouge, told the court he was in the apartment of David W. Ferrie here in September 1963 and listened to the three men conspire to kill the president and escape.

Oswald Not Mentioned

But two weeks ago, shortly after Ferrie died of what the coroner termed natural causes and Garrison maintained was suicide, Russo told a newsman from New Orleans television station WDSU that Ferrie never mentioned Oswald's name to him, adding, "I had never heard of Oswald until on television. . . . ahn. . . . the assassination."

— Russo gave detail in court of the meeting in Ferrie's apartment, saying the plot involved sacrificing one man to allow the others to make a getaway, a possible flight to Cuba, diversionary shooting and "triangularization of crossfire."

Yet in an interview earlier with a Baton Rouge television station, Russo explained he never came forth with his information before because, "I left it to professionals...when they came out with Oswald as the man. Then I forgot it."

Shaw Silenced

— Russo told the court that Ferrie proposed flying the getaway plane into Mexico to refuel for a flight to Cuba. Russo said Shaw interrupted to say that as soon as the shots were fired "the world would know about it," and there would be no way to get the plane out of Mexico. Russo quoted Oswald as telling Shaw to "shut up. Leave him (Ferrie) alone. He knows what he's talking about. He's the pilot."

But when Russo was asked by a newsman earlier whether he thought Ferrie might have had anything to do with the assassination, he replied: "Well, that I don't know and it would be just speculation."

Dave Ferrie had the ability because of a keen mind and ability to drive an airplane. Now whether he would have used that is another thing...It's only conjecture."

Saw Pictured

— Russo has said he did not get in touch with Garrison until two days after Ferrie's death — when he saw a newspaper picture of Ferrie. He said he had not then heard from Garrison.

That is the date on which Garrison announced he had "solved" the case. And Russo apparently is a major witness in Garrison's case — the "confidential informant" who, according to Garrison's application for a warrant to search Shaw's house, confirmed while under influence of "truth serum" that he overheard the plot to murder Kennedy.

Other ponderables: Russo told a newsman that Ferrie jokingly posed the question of assassinating the president to him, "that if he and I could do it...it could be done." In the same in-

Does 'Never On Sunday' Ban Powell's Arrest?

WASHINGTON (AP) — Legal-minded House members said today if Adam Clayton Powell is re-elected and the House again moves to exclude him, it might violate the double jeopardy provision of the Fifth Amendment to the Constitution.

That provision says no person shall "be subject for the same offense to be twice put in jeopardy of life or limb."

It poses one in a mass of legal questions surrounding the Powell case.

Powell has been punished once by being denied the seat he won through election. Would another exclusion vote amount to a second punishment for the New York Democrat's same alleged offenses?

Some congressmen argue that the action excluding Powell was for the two-year life of the 90th Congress, which convened in January. They say another exclusion vote merely would be a reaffirmation of the original action.

Expect Easy Win

But others say the House ban relates only to Powell's election in 1966. To exclude or otherwise punish him if he again is elected, they contend, would amount to a second punishment for the same causes since no new charges have been raised against him.

The general feeling today in the House is that Powell will easily win the special election on April 11 to fill the vacancy in the 18th New York District resulting from the House's refusal to seat him.

But re-election in itself would

Lindemer Joins Romney Forces

STOCKBRIDGE (AP) — Lawrence Lindemer, credited by Gov. George Romney with helping make possible the election of a Republican governor in 1962, plans to join the "Romney for President" office in Washington.

Lindemer was Republican state chairman from 1957 to 1961. In 1962, Romney became Michigan's first Republican governor in 14 years and praised the GOP organizational work done by Lindemer.

Lindemer also was the unsuccessful Republican candidate for attorney general in the 1966 Michigan elections.

Leonard Hall, former Republican national chairman, is opening the office in Washington next Monday to promote Romney's bid for the 1968 GOP presidential nomination in case Romney decides to seek the nomination.

Lindemer is president of Rural Telephone Co. of Stockbridge, where he resides, and is a partner in a Lansing law firm.

Only successful men admit they're self-made.

No Dodd Refunds

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Thomas J. Dodd says he has had no takers on his offer of cash refunds to persons who may have bought tickets to testimonial for him under the impression the money would be used only for his campaign expenses.

That was the Connecticut Democrat's reply to a reporter's question as the Senate ethics committee indicated it is nearing the end of its presentation of evidence in the investigation of Dodd's financial affairs.

Benjamin R. Fern, the bipartisan committee's chief counsel, said as of now he plans to call only three more witnesses.

Two, Terry Golden and Michael V. O'Hare, are former employees of Dodd. The third, Edward Locke, was hired to ghostwrite for the senator a book about subversion.

The committee heard six witnesses Tuesday, including political allies of the senator who testified that funds they helped raise for him at dinners, receptions and other events were for Dodd to use as he saw fit.

They said this was the case despite a resolution and letters halting the fund-raising to political campaign activities.

A Slow Start:

Lakes Shipping Delayed By Ice

"No word," was the reply of L.A. McMillan, Chicago & North Western Railway ore dock agent, today to the question of when the first ore boat is expected to arrive in Escanaba.

Last year the ore carrier Charles C. West, accompanied by the Coast Guard cutter Mesquite, arrived here on March 31.

"This has been a rough winter and it will not be that early this year unless ice conditions improve rapidly," McMillan said.

The dock agent added that he does not expect any information about the start of ore shipping until another week or 10 days have passed.

Meanwhile the North Western is continuing its annual ore dock repair program on schedule, with the dock to be in readiness for use with the arrival of the first carrier.

The second ice conditions report for the Great Lakes, issued by the U.S. Weather Bureau at Detroit, indicates there will be no rapid improvement in the situation. "The five-day forecast indicates temperatures will be below normal with the greatest departure expected over the northern lakes," it is reported.

Northern's Job Corps Center, first on a university campus, opened last June under a federal contract of $2.7 million and has had an average enrollment of 290-300 girls throughout its beginning year of operation.

Several enrollees have completed their course and left the center, but the majority are still engaged in job training coupled with general education and complemented by recreational activities.

Continuation of the program for another year has been urged by the Women's Job Corps Community Relations Council, headed by George Raish, Jr., Marquette, as general chairman.

Big Apartment Plans Revised

TROY (AP) — A plan that would have given Troy what was described as the largest apartment community in the Midwest has been turned down by the City Commission. The commission said the proposal would use too much land for a shopping center, but the developer said a revised plan would be submitted within 90 days.

The fact that Escanaba was chosen is "indeed, significant evidence of the excellence of the Escanaba vocal groups," Benner emphasizes. "I personally listened to the tapes of the recommended groups after the selections were reported and was excited and thrilled by the excellent quality of musicianship and the significance of the repertoire of the Escanaba Concert Choir and Chorale."

Benner said that on behalf of the North Central division of the MENC he wished to extend appreciation to the Escanaba Area school system and to the community for their cooperation in making it possible for us (MENC) to include the Escanaba vocal groups on the convention program.

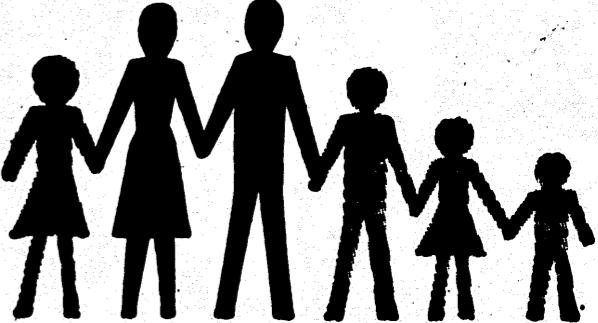

He said about 4,000 music educators were expected to attend the program.

Other high school vocal groups who will appear on the program are the East Lansing High School choir, the Oshkosh, Wis., High School Choir, and the White Bear Lake, Minn., High School choir.

Have Contract; VOTE To Strike

DETROIT (AP)—Drivers and mechanics of the Lake Shore Coach Lines have voted to go on strike at 3 a.m. Thursday despite a recently negotiated new labor contract. The offer was accepted by Local 1376 of the Amalgamated Transit Union, but was contingent on the company's getting an increase in fares. The proposed fare boost is still pending before the Public Service Commission.

Where The Action Is

The first caucus of Senate Republicans in the Legislature on fiscal reform gave it about a 50-50 chance of passage in this session.

A state income tax for Michigan appears to be assuming an inevitability, but there will be some lusty efforts to block it on political grounds and on grounds of economy and efforts to find some alternatives, like cutting the state spending that is making it necessary.

While this is going on, there is not much notice of a much bigger hole in the taxpayer's pocket.

The Michigan Department of Revenue's annual report, just off the press, says that local, state and federal tax collections in Michigan in fiscal 1966 totaled $12.5 billion, of which $9.97 billion went to Washington.

Of the total, $1.4 billion was collected in state taxes, but about half of this amount was returned by the state to local governments and to the public schools. Schools and local government, of course, also got the local property taxes, more than $1 billion worth.

An understanding of this setup, with its tax kick-back by Washington and Lansing to local government and schools, is necessary for understanding of state tax reform. "Tax reform" as proposed in Lansing these days is a limited sort of reform, aimed at creating a new state income tax and dropping the business activities tax and giving some property tax relief while creating a net tax gain of about $235 million a year.

But, urgent as the need for a state income tax is described by Lansing, of all tax collections in Michigan, 84.63 per cent go to Washington and only 8.7 per cent is taken by the state, with 6.67 per cent going to the schools and local government.

These figures require some explanation as they are accounted for in part by the inclusion of corporate income and profit taxes and excise taxes on auto making and sales, because the car manufacturers have their home offices in the state.

Although Michigan has been a state for 129 years, its three largest tax producers have all been levied in the past 41 years. They are, the retail sales tax ($588.8 million) gasoline tax ($190.5 million) and business activities tax $112.9 million.

Local property taxes increased by 4.78 per cent last year over 1965 and they have increased 84 per cent in the past 10 years, with 55 per cent of such taxes going to local schools in 1966. (Extra voted school taxes were once again higher than the regular school taxes. Townships and villages got less than 3 per cent of the local property taxes.)

Both state and local taxes have increased by 94 per cent in the past 10 years, while personal income was increasing only 57 per cent.

The Department of Revenue forecasts that despite the uncertainty of the economy, total tax collections for 1967 will again break all existing records, and will be around $1,225.7 million, if there are no changes in the tax base. If there are no changes Gov. George Romney is going to be unhappy and even the Legislature probably won't be content, because by then the predicted shortages should be evident.

People, Events Of Yesteryears

From the files of the Escanaba Daily Press

25 YEARS AGO

Lieut. Com. Rintoul T. Whitney, son of Mrs. C. B. Whitney of Escanaba, was awarded the Navy Cross for his bravery in action when the Japanese attacked the Cavite naval base in the Philippines last December. Lieut. Com. Whitney was wounded in Cavite.

50 YEARS AGO

The annual meeting of the Daughters of the American Revolution was held recently at the home of Mrs. F. W. Loos. The annual report of the society was read, officers re-elected, and a social afternoon followed the business part of the meeting. Re-elected regent and vice-regent were Mrs. F. H. Atkins and Mrs. W. J. Clark, respectively.

The Escanaba Golf Club held its annual meeting last night. Elected officers were F. A. Huston, president; W. W. Oliver, vice-president; and E. W. Wicking, secretary-treasurer. The board of governors and the chairmen of various committees were announced by President Huston.

The peasant women, who were always deeply religious in Russia, saw the revolution as a miracle—the "hand of God." They crossed themselves and embraced strangers in the streets. "Christ is here," they cried. "The truth has dawned in Russia."

It was too young to know that when it was too late that the aim of Lenin and his Bolsheviks was to destroy Kerensky's fragile democratic regime and replace czarist despotism and autocracy with Communist despotism and dictatorship.

Gullible Western historians continue to depict Lenin as the real leader of the Russian Revolution. They have swallowed uncritically all the fictions of Communist propaganda and John Reed's biased account, "Ten Days That Shook the World."

But the historic fact is that the Revolution of March 1917—that Lenin and his armed minions destroyed eight months later—was actually a popular explosion for which no one political party can claim credit.

"Sweater"
The word sweater was used in England as early as 1850 to describe an employer who exacted monotonous work at very low wages. The sweating system was also a term used to describe oppressive industrial conditions in certain trades.

"Happy Hunting Grounds"

The Indians themselves did not refer to their future state as the "happy hunting grounds." This name was given by the white man to the place where Indians go after death.

It was a spontaneous expression of the wrath of war-weary and starving people brought to despair by Russia's continuous defeats in World War I and by the tragic fate of Rasputin's rule.

Lenin was still in Switzerland when the czar fell. He came to Russia in the German kaiser's special "sealed train" a month after Nicholas' abdication. He was also lavishly supplied with German money.

The kaiser, of course, hoped that Russia would desert her allies and conclude a separate peace with Germany. He used the ambitious Lenin as his only-too-willing tool and accomplice. This has now been confirmed by documents found in the German Foreign Office after Hitler's defeat in 1945.

Despite volumes of Communist propaganda and Moscow's falsification of history, Lenin had no direct part in the overthrow of the czar. His name was largely unknown in Russia's provinces. His "revolution" was directed not against the czar but against the Kerensky government.

We pray: for Charles de Gaulle, Indira Gandhi, Haile Selassie, Sukarno, Lyndon Johnson. And Ho Chi Minh. Yes, Christ calls us to pray for men, where they are. At a cross, the Berlin Wall, the Ho Chi Minh Trail, the beaches of Cuba, the doors of China.

All men will need this heavenly power promised by God, experienced by Christ, that we might be saved from such earthly hell as war. O Lord, lead us through the power of prayer. Amen.

Kerensky Says Reds Will Lose Russia

Five decades have elapsed since the Russian Revolution overthrew the Romanov dynasty and forced Czar Nicholas II to abdicate his throne. Yet the impact of the drama enacted on March 15, 1917, is still one of great mysteries of our time.

Half a century later the revolution and its consequences continue to dominate our lives. I was only nine years old when the news reached the city of Rovno, a provincial capital in the Ukraine, that after 300 years of the Romanov reign Russia was at last free. The event left an indelible mark on my life. No one who has lived through the days of the revolution will ever forget them.

After 50 years I can still recapture vividly the memory of wild joy that the czar's abdication brought to the people of the city where my father, a newspaper editor, was a leader of the moderate socialists.

The overthrow of Nicholas II was largely spontaneous and unexpected, even though it had long been foreseen. Almost without a shot the "Autocrat of all Russia" was gone. The aristocratic Prince Lvov, an enemy of the czar, and the moderate socialist, Alexander Kerensky, emerged as the leaders of the provisional government—the only democratic government that ever ruled Russia.

The peasant women, who were always deeply religious in Russia, saw the revolution as a miracle—the "hand of God." They crossed themselves and embraced strangers in the streets. "Christ is here," they cried. "The truth has dawned in Russia."

Many peasants believed that the Revolution had actually liberated the czar—the "bearer of the people's truth"—from the clutches of his wife, Alexandra, a former German princess. They were convinced that Russia's "Little Father" was a prisoner of the "Nemka" (the German woman) and her "lover," the dissolute monk Grigori Rasputin.

Indeed, no one who did not witness the euphoria of March 1917 can know what it was like. In the past, great upheavals in Russia frequently resulted in savage massacres of religious minorities. But the Revolution was sacred. Even criminal elements were too overjoyed to loot or kill.

In Petrograd, the capital, and throughout Russia the czar's demise was marked by few excesses and only light casualties. Aside from hunting down the hated police, the Russian people shed little blood in the first days of the revolution.

Kerensky, true to Russia's international pledges, urged the people to continue the fight until victory. But Lenin announced that he intended to sign a separate peace with Germany. For the starving Russians peace had a vastly stronger appeal than victory.

Though Kerensky's tenure of power lasted only eight months, he nevertheless left an indelible mark on world history. He symbolizes in his person and career the remarkable group of men who refused to compromise their moral ideas. They foresaw the terrible fate of those who sought either power or survival at any price.

Now 86 years old, Kerensky continues the fight for Russia's freedom. He never lost faith in the ultimate triumph of democracy in his country. He believes that the humanitarian traditions of Tolstoy, Soloviev and Chekhov are inherent in the Russian spirit.

"I do not doubt for a moment that communism will disappear in Russia," Kerensky told me recently in New York.

"It is not on the decline."

The conflict between Russia and Red China, he said, is the Achilles heel of Leninism and the herald of its doom.

Four Banks In Delta Announce Credit Cards

Executive officers of the State Bank of Escanaba, the First National Bank & Trust Co. of Escanaba, Gladstone State Savings Bank, and the First National Bank of Gladstone today announced that their banks have joined with Security National Bank of Battle Creek and hundreds of other independent banks in the Midwest to bring a comprehensive credit card plan to residents of the Delta County area.

The new cards, soon to be issued by the banks, will carry the name "American Security Charge" plus the distinctive symbol of the Midwest Bank Card System and will be honored by over 50,000 establishments in Michigan, Indiana and Illinois at once and probably over a wider area within a few months.

Merchants and service establishments participating with four local banks and any other bank in the system will all display the same "Midwest Bank Card Welcome Here" sign so cardholders, currently numbering over 7 million and increasing should experience no difficulty in determining where to shop with an American Security Charge card at home or on the road, the bankers said.

The Midwest Bank Card System, which was created late in 1965 by five large banks in Chicago, is designed to enable an infinite number of local independent and competing banks to provide their customers with a locally administered credit card having the combined advantages of gasoline credit cards, hotel and motel credit cards, travel and entertainment, thousands of individual charge accounts, etc.

Cash advances from $50 to $100 may also be obtained by presenting a card to any participating bank without making a loan application or other red tape. There will be neither entrance fees nor annual membership fees for American Security Charge Cardholders.

They will pay no monthly service charge if their account is paid in full within 25 days from monthly billing date. Extended payment privileges will be available for a modest service charge.

Initially, the mechanics of handling the millions of sales and credit slips generated by the use of cards will be almost identical with the present day check clearing process. The operation would be impractical or nearly impossible except for the capacity of modern communications and electronic computer systems, the bankers said.

This system is only a first short step toward a checkless and cashless society, they suggested. "Some day we will be able to insert our credit card into a slot on our video telephone, call an order to the corner store or across the nation and our account at our local bank will be charged and the account of the merchant at his bank will be credited with the amount of the purchase," the statement said. "Payment of previously contracted debts will be made by issuing an order to our local bank to pay a stipulated amount to a specified individual or firm at his bank and the whole transaction will take place in a fraction of a second by direct communication between our bank's computer center and his bank's computer center."

Peterson will assist Delta Soil Conservation District co-operators and ACP participants with the layout, construction and maintenance of soil and water conservation practices. In 1960 he joined the SCS in Escanaba and for the past three years was assigned to the Stephenson SCS office assisting the Menominee Soil Conservation District.

Peterson and his wife Eleanor reside at 1808 Ludington St.

Teacher's Goal Is Farm-School In Native India

Life is "a spiritual pilgrimage" that has brought a young man from India to the United States in pursuit of his goal—to return to his native land and establish an agricultural school for the education of young farmers.

The story of his "pilgrimage" to date was told to the Escanaba Rotary Club by Prantosh Nag, instructor in economics at Bay de Noc Community College, at the meeting of the club at the House of Ludington Tuesday noon.

Nag was introduced by Robert Mosenfelder of the club's program committee and the meeting was conducted by Rotarian President Isadore Stein.

Born in East Pakistan, Nag moved with his parents to Calcutta in 1947 and in his reading of the life of Mahatma Gandhi he asked himself: "How can I make this life most useful?"

His search for usefulness to his country and to his fellow men brought him to the conclusion that to serve best he must be better educated, he said. He studied in India and then in Denmark and in the latter country he discovered how education in agricultural economics brought greater production to farms and satisfaction to farm people.

Returning to India he taught for a time at the high school level and then came to the United States in pursuit of his goal of higher education and for financing to establish an agricultural school in his homeland. At the University of Minnesota he received his master's degree and advanced toward his doctorate.

Now as a faculty member of Bay de Noc Community College he pursues his goal of education and is also putting aside funds which he needs to help him "buy that small farm I will need for my school in India." He is unmarried.

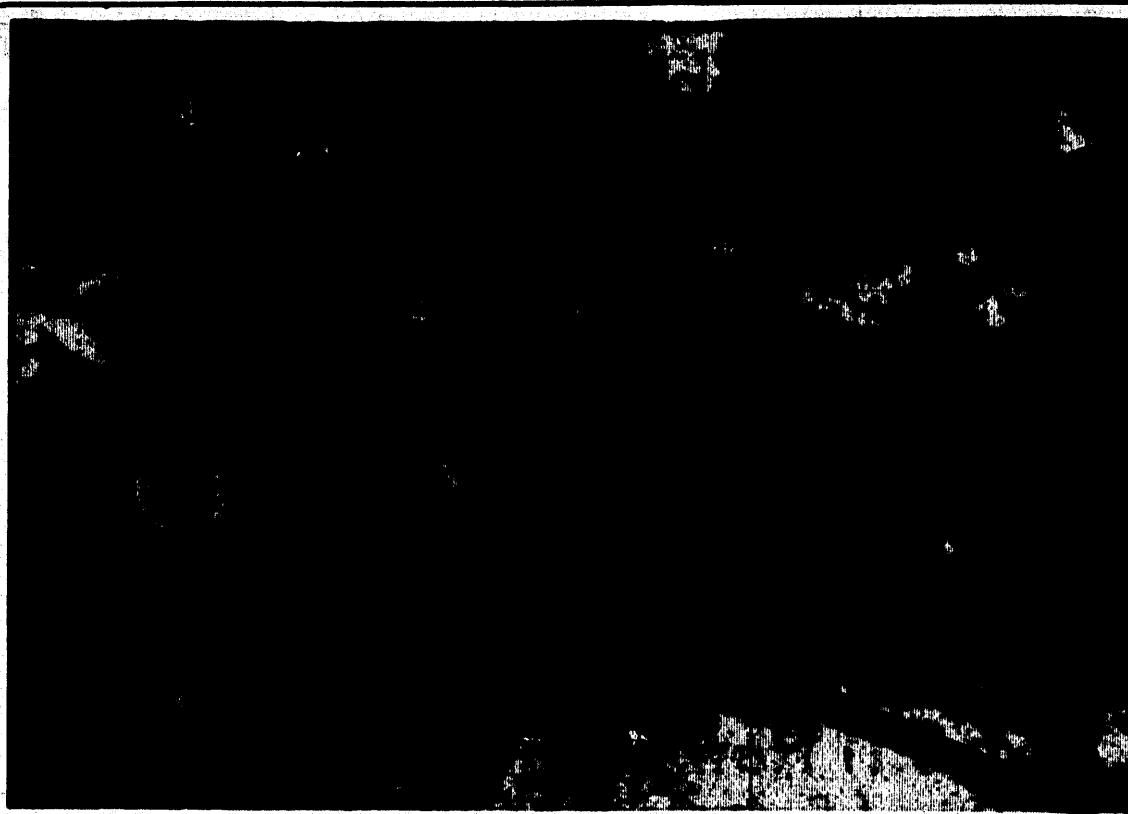

"I want to go back and start a school for young farmers. It will be a school where they will learn modern methods of agriculture, where they will learn to think together and work together, and to find hope that in their lives and country all is not lost," he said.

India's problems are many, he continued. Chiefly they are food shortage and over-population. Family planning is essential to India's progress, he said.

"This life is a journey," Nag confided. "It becomes a pilgrimage when you find a purpose in life. I have found mine."

Megalopolis Of Lakes Seen No. 1

EAST LANSING, — Detroit may become the center of a budding Great Lake megalopolis that will be more significant than the much heralded Boston to Baltimore megalopolis, according to a report in a Michigan State University business publication.

The growth of the Great lakes megalopolis is outlined by Peter B. Spivak, chairman of the Michigan State Economic Record.

"There will be a great city," he says, "stretching from Pittsburgh to Cleveland, Toledo, Detroit, Ann Arbor, Jackson, Battle Creek, Kalamazoo, Grand Rapids, South Bend, Chicago, and Milwaukee. Flint, Saginaw, Bay City and Midland will be within its boundaries. From Detroit, northeast through Windsor, London, Toronto, Ottawa, Montreal, and Quebec runs the Canadian arms of the megalopolis."

The role of the Detroit area according to Spivak, will be that of a major trade and transportation center.

"It is the crossroads of important land, water, and transportation routes," Spivak reports. "It is the center of the megalopolis itself."

By the year 2,000, Michigan's population will be 18.4 million, twice its present figure, Spivak says. And 97 per cent of the state citizens will live in the megalopolis area, he adds. The megalopolis, according to Spivak, will encompass 41.5 percent of Michigan's 57,019 square miles.

The Boston to Baltimore Megalopolis, Spivak points out, is the first megalopolis in the United States.

"It appears destined to be neither our biggest nor most significant as we approach the last two decades of this century," Spivak adds. "It will be the Great Lakes megalopolis that will predominate."

Kinney Will Buy 6,000 AMC Cars

DETROIT (AP) — American Motors Corp. and Kinney National Service, Inc., have announced that Kinney will buy 6,000 American Motors cars to be used in a car rental system. The purchase doubles the number of cars Kinney bought from the auto firm a year ago.

Lansing Busline Strike Averted

LANSING (AP) — A last-minute agreement averted a threatened strike by Lansing bus drivers today, but final settlement depends on whether Lansing's city council approves a five-cent fare increase next Monday.

Lansing Suburban Lines Inc., which carries about 4,500 passengers a day, told the union it would have to withdraw its contract offer if the council rejects the proposed increase from 25 to 30 cents.

James L. Cramer, president of Local 1039 of the Amalgamated Transit Union, said the 36 union members voted Tuesday night to accept a contract providing a 5 per cent wage boost and expiring Nov. 30, 1967.

Expiration date of the contract had been the issue holding up agreement. The company sought first a two-year, then a one-year contract.

The wage increase would provide 11 cents an hour to bus drivers now making $2.10 an hour.

UW-Green Bay Opening In '69

Dr. Edward Weidner, chancellor of the University of Wisconsin at Green Bay, states that all signals are "GO" for the new campus to open in 1969.

The present plan site will accommodate 20,000 students in the 1960's. Concepts for building include central core with a library learning laboratory to provide automated studies, an area communications buildings for TV programs, a computing area for instruction, administration offices and classrooms for audited learning to be housed in another building. Long-range plans will include laboratory building, physical education center, community center and additional classrooms.

Projected figures state that 1,500 students will enter the UW Green Bay in 1969.

Administration of the four centers Marinette, Manitowoc, Fox Valley and Marathon will be turned over to and will be a definite part of UW Green Bay.

Weidner stated that the Great Lakes area is only in the beginning stages of advancement. New products derived from the study of wood chemistry, educational training in the field of recreation and tourism are a few of the possibilities that students will study.

Gem And Mineral Club Will Meet

The newly elected officers of the Club are Donald McKee, president; Fred Fisher, vice president; Laurel Welland, secretary; and Mrs. George Lockard, treasurer.

Persons interested in rocks and minerals are invited to the meeting. Members and guests are asked to use the northeast entrance.

Easter Seal Appeal:

Fund To Aid Crippled

The Easter appeal for funds to help finance the program of assistance to Delta County's crippled and handicapped children and adults is now under way, it is announced by Clint Dunathan of Escanaba, Easter Seal chairman.

Appeal letters containing the traditional Easter Seals are being mailed this week, and there will be a solicitation on downtown streets in Escanaba and Gladstone on Good Friday, March 24.

James Degnan of Escanaba, honorary chairman of the Easter Seal committee, joined in the request for generous contributions in support of the program that renders many services, including:

- Providing wheelchairs, hospital beds, crutches, braces and other appliances.
- Conducting annual special clinics for the cerebral palsied.

• Providing "camperships" for crippled children to Bay Cliff Health Camp.

Other services include cooperation with other agencies in providing occupational therapy to the homebound; vocational counseling leading to employment; and transportation to clinics, schools and hospitals.

"It also participates in a national program of research and education with special emphasis on safety and prevention of crippling accidents," said Dunathan.

"Your Easter Seal Society serves crippled children and adults, regardless of race, creed, cause of crippling or ability to pay."

Other members of the local committee are John A. Lemmer, vice chairman; Hjalmar Anderson, Gladstone chairman; Robert Micensky, Escanaba, secretary; and Carl Wickman, Escanaba, treasurer.

The directors are Mrs. Donald Fitch, Bay View; Mrs. Thomas Safford, Ensign; Dr. Carl J. Olson and Donald Prohaska.

The local Easter Seal Society is affiliated with the Michigan and National Society for Crippled Children and Adults, Inc.

tanauer, Gladstone; Erling Aratzen, Leah Olson, Dr. Thomas A. McInerney, J. L. Heikman, Charles Folio, Harold Johnson and John Butrymowicz, Escanaba.

In the Easter tradition, athletes of Escanaba Area Public High School, Holy Name High School and Gladstone High School will aid the campaign for funds by "selling" Easter lilies (symbol of the Easter Seal) on downtown streets Friday afternoon and evening. The solicitation may also be held on Saturday.

The young men, lettermen of the three schools, will by their helpfulness demonstrate that "the strength of others helps the weak grow strong."

The local Easter Seal Society is affiliated with the Michigan and National Society for Crippled Children and Adults, Inc.

Small Business Loan Processing Changes In U.P.

There are several thousand small businesses in the Upper Peninsula. They range from the manufacturing plant employing over 200 workers to the single proprietor grocery store or welding shop.

As diversified as these businesses are, they share common need for financial help and management assistance. To meet these needs, the UPCAP Small Business Development Center (SBDC) was established about a year ago.

Through a unique partnership between public and private individuals and groups such as the SBDC, the Small Business Administration (SBA) offices in Marquette and Detroit, the Community Action Agencies, and the volunteer county SBDC committees, some 83 loans totaling more than $1,250,000 were made to U.P. small business through December, 1966.

"The SBDC program owes its success to the cooperative team efforts of these individuals and agencies," said Russ Adams, of Northern Michigan University, chairman of the UPCAP-SBDC Advisory Committee.

The SBDC received a grant of $55,000 from the Office of Economic Opportunity in January to finance a six-month period ending June 30, 1967.

Just prior to this grant came the announcement from Washington that there would be a new shift in emphasis for the SBDCs across the nation.

The SBDCs had previously been concerned with processing loan applications for low-income businesses from initial interviews until the application was sent to the SBA office in Marquette for final action.

The SBDCs had previously been concerned with processing loan applications for low-income businesses from initial interviews until the application was sent to the SBA office in Marquette for final action.

The SBA will now take care of all but the initial loan application step, leaving the SBDC with more time for "one to one counseling" of small businesses.

Under the new system, the three SBDC field men, along with the Community Action Agencies and the county SBDC committees, will help loan applicants with their initial forms. From there on, the SBA will process each application.

The 18 local SBDC committees are composed of persons familiar with the business world. The committee members also provide counseling services to the loan recipients in their area.

"The greatest advantage of the committees is that they are in the community all the time," said George Rusch, co-

North Central Prop-Jets Will Start April 1

The first North Central Airlines Convair 440 airliner converted from piston power to prop-jet power will be used on its Minneapolis - Green Bay-Chicago flight on April 1.

The flight stops at Wausau enroute to Green Bay and at Oshkosh and Milwaukee enroute to Chicago.

All of North Central's 31 Convairs are being converted to 580 prop-jet powered airliners and it is phasing out its DC3 planes, which may make some appearances on local runs in the period when the Convairs are being converted to jet power.

North Central expects its second 580 conversion on March 17. It has a crew now in training on its first conversion.

The first of North Central's new DC8 fan jets is now building and will be delivered next fall by Douglas Aircraft. With addition of the 100-passenger fan jets, North Central will be all jet powered in 1968.

First of the Convair 440's converted to Allison prop-jets to serve the Upper Peninsula is expected next fall. They will have new cabin interiors and distinctive aqua and gold exteriors and four-wide, square-tipped Aeroproducts propeller blades instead of the familiar 8 blades of the Convair 440's.

The seating will be the same, 48, but the Allison prop-jet motors will increase the Convair's power by 50 per cent.

The two 3,750 horsepower Allison engines will enable the 580s to climb to comfortable cruising altitude three times faster than the Convair 440, and once airborne to travel 100 miles an hour faster than the present speed of the Northliners.

Escanaba BPW Club Hears of CAA Work

Ray LaPorte, director of the Menominee-Delta - Schoolcraft Community Action Agency, reviewed the agency's activities, from its inception in October of 1965 to the present time, at the meeting of the Escanaba Business & Professional Women's Club last evening at the Sherman Hotel.

As of Jan. 31, 1967, 3,589 persons have contacted the agency's six field offices, requesting information and assistance and many persons have been referred to other single purpose agencies for assistance, he said.

In addition, the community action agency has participated in such programs as: College Work - Study, Neighborhood Youth Corps, VISTA training, Job Corps, SBDC (Small Business Development Center), Medicare Alert, dental assistance for indigent children, Head Start programs, Legal Aid services, On - The - Job Training, Manpower Development program, Senior Citizens Service Center and High School Diploma program.

Financial AM

The agency has worked with communities, furnishing information and giving assistance, in the preparation of requests for financial grants and it has also consulted with private groups needing information and financial aid.

The philosophy of the Office of Economic Opportunity is "total involvement" of communities and people in the programs to solve local problems. CAA has many of the tools but, until citizens become aware and are willing to help, the War on Poverty will be a lone one.

There is much to be encouraged over, he said and cited the example of cooperation, on the part of many groups, resulting in the electrification of Hannanville, citizen participation which provided funds for the Senior Citizens' Service Center in Manistique and the many hours of time donated by over a hundred citizens or seven committees, extending from Menominee to Germfask,

Women's Activities

London Hotel Says Trousers Are Tabu

LONDON (AP) — The wife of a titled British racing driver breached the Savoy dining room's ban on women in trousers but the distinguished London hotel says it won't happen again.

The rule breaker was a Swedish-born blonde model, the wife of 29-year-old Sir John Whitmore. London newspapers reported today that she sailed into the dining room and nobody said a word about her trousers.

A spokesman for the hotel suggested that Lady Whitmore's pants were probably cut full and looked like a skirt. He said the rule against trousered ladies in the Savoy's dining room still stands.

Television producer Cathy McGowan reported she phoned the hotel to book a table two days after Lady Whitmore's triumph. "No trousers, Miss McGow-

"an," she was told. "I think she got in because she is Lady Whitmore," said the lady's husband, who has driven at Le Mans, in the Monte Carlo rally and was European sedan car champion in 1965. "This is damned old-fashioned, stuck up and pompous."

"This has got to stop," said the conservative Daily Mail in a front-page editorial.

Recalling the long skirts of Christian Dior's "New Look" 20 years ago, it said since then "there has been a steady progress toward the hard, brittle and exposed outlines of today."

"Are women happy with this state of affairs?" the editorial continued. "Are they content with their cropped hair, their thin, pale lips, their black-rimmed, haunted eyes?

"The first woman who dined at the Savoy in trousers should also be the last."

we care

we never “run out” on a sale!

We never advertise a special sale item unless we have an ample supply.

Once in a great while, the special is more popular than we imagined.

So occasionally, we do run out of the item.

But we never “run out” on a sale. If the item is sold out, just ask the manager for a “RAIN CHECK”.

An A&P Rain Check is a certificate that entitles you to buy the item at the same special price, the following week.

We think that's the fair thing to do.

We think that shows “WE CARE”.

Not every store can care that much. A&P can...and does. Shouldn't A&P be your store?

Board To Make Site Decision

The final decision on the site for expansion of Bay de Noc Community College will be made tonight at a meeting of the College Board of Trustees.

The special meeting will start at 8 o'clock at the college.

Chairman Joseph Heirman indicated that he would not allow the meeting to be adjourned without a decision. He pointed out that if the college is to retain hope of state legislative appropriations for a new building and development of the site that the decision must not be delayed any longer.

Other board members have previously pointed out that if the college has no site selected, the legislature in examining appropriations bills would be perfectly justified in removing funds scheduled for Bay de Noc College this year.

Three sites were recommended to the Board of Trustees in a report released last week by Daverman Associates, Inc., a planning firm retained by the college to evaluate site suggestions. The decision is expected, however, to revolve about only two locations.

They are a 133-acre tract of land in the Escanaba Industrial Park area adjoining U.S. 2 and the Danforth Rd. near the north city limits and a 120-acre tract west of the Area High School.

President Richard Rinehart of the college said if the Board reached a decision quickly tonight, budget matters would also be discussed.

Seek To Involve Youth In Delta History Programs

A moving picture, "History in Your Community," and a social hour were enjoyed by the Delta County Historical Society at a meeting at the Escanaba Chamber of Commerce building Tuesday night.

The film depicted the experience of a group of school students in researching the history of their town, and its value in relating their community to the events of the nation and the world. The motion picture was released by the University of Michigan and was screened for the Historical Society by Charles Follo, program chairman.

Pursuing its objective of bringing increased appreciation of local history to young people of the area, the Historical Society is scheduling a meeting of its Board of Directors with history teachers in Delta County high schools for April 19, said Robert Schmeling, Society president.

Letters of invitation will be mailed to each of the teachers of history at the Junior and Senior High School levels.

Clint Dunathan, Escanaba, recently appointed to the Michigan Historical Commission, reported to the Society on his first meeting with the Commission. One of the Commission's goals is the employment of a state museum director who will also serve as museum consultant to local historical organizations, he said.

The Delta County Historical Society is presently studying plans for the enlargement of the Historical Museum at Sand Point.

Reports were also made on progress in the installation of historical markers near the Escanaba River and at Whitefish River Hill.

Says Meet Of Conspirators Planned Escape

(Continued from Page 1) interview Russo said he first met Ferrie when he broke off Ferrie's friendship with another boy. Russo added, "At that time Dave made a personal threat against my life."

Only Shaw Alive
Kennedy was killed in Dallas Nov. 22, 1963—two months after the alleged meeting in Ferrie's apartment. The Warren Commission decided that Oswald was the lone assassin and there was no credible evidence of any conspiracy.

Shaw is the only alleged conspirator still alive. Oswald was shot to death by Jack Ruby two days after the assassination and Ferrie died in bed Feb. 22.

Shaw, 54, a one-time Army major who was decorated in World War II, has denied taking part in any conspiracy. U.S. Atty. Gen. Ramsey Clark said the FBI investigated Shaw late in 1963 and cleared him of any link to the assassination.

Russo was the fourth witness to testify Tuesday at the opening of the preliminary hearing for Shaw. The hearing is being held to determine whether the district attorney has sufficient cause to hold Shaw for trial.

Speaking so rapidly and indistinctly that court reporters asked him to slow down, Russo told his story with his eyes fixed on Garrison.

Stuart Hubbell
CEF Director Guest Speaker At Holy Name

Stuart D. Hubbell, Traverse City, executive director of Citizens for Educational Freedom, will be the guest speaker at the Holy Name High School Parents' Club meeting at 8 p.m. Thursday in the multi-purpose room of the high school.

Hubbell, who has been prosecuting attorney in Grand Traverse County since 1956, is past president of both the Michigan unit and the national organization better known as C. E. F., founded in 1959 to educate the general public to the rights of parents in education and to achieve equality and freedom in education of all schools.

C.E.F. is a non-sectarian organization whose state officers include Dr. John Vandenberg, Dean of Calvin College, Grand Rapids, Dr. John Choitz, Superintendent of Lutheran High Schools, Greater Detroit, Mark Kelly, practicing attorney of Jackson, and Rabbi Joshua Sperka, Secretary of the Council of Orthodox Jews, Greater Detroit.

President Johnson officially commended C.E.F. for its efforts on behalf of the adoption of the Federal Aid to Education Bill.

School faculty members will be in their homes from 7 to 8 p.m.—for parent-teacher consultation and refreshments will be served by club officers. The public is cordially invited.

Peninsula Fire College Planned

Fire departments of the Upper Peninsula have been invited to send representatives to Escanaba on Friday, March 17, for a regional planning meeting in the City Hall. It is announced by Escanaba Fire Chief Palmer Derouin.

Purpose of the meeting is to survey the interest of local fire departments in attending a U.P. Fire College, and a discussion of a training school whose subjects and programs would be covered by the University training course.

Chief Derouin said the U.P. Fire College is relatively new and the continuance of the training program will depend on the interest shown by U.P. fire departments.

NMU Center For Schools Planned

An Upper Peninsula Education Service Center will be established on the campus of Northern Michigan University at Marquette, Senator Philip A. Hart and Congressman Philip Rupke reported today. "The center will service the intermediate school districts of all 15 counties in the Upper Peninsula," they said.

Kidnap Victim Body Identified

ANN ARBOR (AP)—Jewelry on the body of a woman found with two bullets in her head has been identified as belonging to a River Rouge barmaid missing since Jan. 23.

The jewelry was identified by the missing barmaid's two daughters.

Washtenaw County Sheriff Douglas Harvey said Tuesday he believes the body, found near a lake in Dexter Township, is that of Mrs. Kathleen Riddle, 42. Harvey said however, that identification of the jewelry does not amount to positive identification.

Sheriff's deputies have been searching for Mrs. Riddle's body since she disappeared seven weeks ago from the River Rouge bar where she worked. Heavy snow had hampered their efforts.

The body was discovered Monday by Sheriff's Det. Thomas A. Dorrance when he saw a hand protruding from the muddy, thawing soil on the shore of Pickeral Lake.

Harvey said further investigation is necessary to determine whether the bullets caused the death and whether the body is that of Mrs. Riddle.

River Rouge police are holding two men on charges of kidnapping Mrs. Riddle. The men, Larry Marcham, 22, of Ecorse and Ronald Ralston, 20, of Verona, Ind., are being held in lieu of $100,000 bond.

Hart And Griffin Agree In Voting

WASHINGTON (AP)—Senators Philip Hart and Robert Griffin of Michigan voted Tuesday against an amendment to the Soviet consular treaty which would have required the Russians to admit more U.S. newsmen and to allow distribution to the Soviet press of U.S. statements. The amendment lost 65-22.

Chippewa May Get Tax Hike

SAULT STE MARIE — A State Tax Commission study has indicated that Chippewa County may be hit with a staggering $12.7 million tax valuation increase this year.

The preliminary study by the commission indicates that the commission has placed a true cash value of $156,205,759 on the county which translates to a state equalized value of $78,102,880 (50 per cent of true cash value). This compares to the 1966 state equalized valuation of $65,351,706.

The center will also assign a district consultant to work on a permanent basis with intermediate superintendents. One of his jobs will be to coordinate all local state and federal service and assistance programs in education and social services.

Although the project has been approved, the school districts still must negotiate for funds. They have applied for $311,470.

Kennedy Body Moved Secretly To New Grave

WASHINGTON (AP) — The body of President John F. Kennedy was transferred in as much secrecy as the military could muster Tuesday night to its permanent resting place in Arlington National Cemetery.

Then this morning President Johnson joined Kennedy's widow and other members of the Kennedy family in a ceremony in which the slain President will rest was blessed by Richard Cardinal Cushing of Boston.

Also present at the new graveside as the Roman Catholic prelate pronounced the blessing were Sens. Robert F. Kennedy, D-N.Y., and Edward M. Kennedy, D-Mass., with their wives; Mr. and Mrs. Stephen M. Smith, Mr. and Mrs. Sargent Shriver and Patricia Kennedy Lawford. Mrs. Smith, Mrs. Shriver and Mrs. Lawford are sisters of the late chief executive.

Edison Expense Increase Noted

Detroit Edison's 1966 annual report to 118,401 shareholders highlights record energy deliveries, a rise in expenses and the largest facilities expansion program in the company's 64-year history, entailing expenditures during the period 1966-1972 of $870 million.

Walker L. Cleler, chairman of the board, and Donald F. Kigar, president, report that business during 1966 reflected the high level of the economy that prevailed in Michigan and throughout the nation. Nevertheless, expenses increased proportionally more than revenues.

Total revenues for the 12-month period ended Dec. 31, 1966, amounted to $383 million, an increase of 8.3 per cent over 1965. Total expenses increased 9.0 per cent. Net income was $61 million, an increase of 7.7 per cent over 1965. Earnings were $2.15 per share, compared to $2.00 in 1965. Dividends to shareholders were $1.40 per share, a continuation of the 35 cents quarterly rate established in November, 1965.

According to the report, rates to customers remained unchanged during the year. Substantial reductions, made by the company in December, 1964, and December, 1965, resulted in annual savings to customers which amounted to over $10,000,000 in 1966.

News In Brief

By The Associated Press
LANSING—Senate Republicans in caucus agree Michigan cities should be able to levy income taxes but they called for elimination of one-half per cent city taxes on nonresidents.

STUTTGART, Germany—EUCOM, the top American military headquarters in Europe began operating here today after lowering the flag at its former headquarters outside Paris for the last time. After 13 years the shift came two weeks before the DeGaulle set April deadline.

ANTWERP, Belgium—Dock workers found a defused Russian bomb in the rice cargo of Egyptian freighter Port Said. No explanation was available.

OAKLAND, Calif.—Alice Tisdale Hobart, 85, author of "Oil for the Lamps of China" died Tuesday after a long illness. Her books were mostly fiction about China where she lived for 19 years.

JERUSALEM, Israel—Autopsies and unemployment set off rioting here and in Tel Aviv. Orthodox Jews generally oppose autopsies.

WASHINGTON — The President's call for restoration of business tax incentives has ignited dispute in the House Ways and Means Committee. The state of the economy and Johnson's proposed income tax hike are at issue.

WARSAW, Poland—Poland and East Germany signed a 20-year treaty today. It pledges aid in case of attack by West Germany or its allies.

GRAND RAPIDS—Saying he welcomes an investigation by the Attorney General, State Highway Commissioner Richard Vander Veen added, "I am confident we will come out of the current investigation stronger than ever before."

U.P. Club Will Dine In Lansing

The Upper Peninsula Club of Lansing will hold its 9th annual lumberjack breakfast Sunday, March 19 at the Lansing Civic Center from 8 to 10 a.m.

The lumberjack meal, served Big Mac style, will feature Paul Bunyan flapjacks, hot Upper Peninsula sap, new churned butter, lumberjack link sausage, farm country eggs, Superior fried spuds, stewed prunes, pasteurized milk, hot fresh java, and rolls.

The study was the result of a request made by the Chippewa Board of Supervisors in August, 1965, asking the state tax commission to re-evaluate the county because present valuations are unfair and not equitable.

Overall, the county in the new study shows a 19.51 per cent increase with the City of Sault Ste. Marie increasing 6.88 per cent. Hardest hit would be Drummond Township, which in the study is increased more than $3.5 million—nearly 2.5 times the 1966 valuation. Sault Ste. Marie would be increased more than $2.25 million.

Final equalization order from the state comes in May after the County Board has taken action to equalize on a county basis at its April meeting. In Delta County, equalized valuation has been the same as the state equalized valuation in recent years. It is unlikely that Delta County will face a major tax valuation increase this year, according to Peter T. Ross, county tax director.

Ross conferred with members of the State Tax Commission in Lansing this month over valuation of Delta County.

The State Tax Commission made a sales survey of Delta County last fall, but results of the survey have not been disclosed.

The Menominee High School basketball team that won the Upper Peninsula Class B championship at Northern and will compete in the state quarterfinals tonight bears little resemblance to the team that represented the Maroons early in the regular season . . . As an example, Dave Haglund and Bill Jones teamed up for 33 points in the title game against Ishpeming . . . In a game here against Escanaba on Dec. 2 they failed to contribute a single point, although both saw action, as the Eskimos won by a 79-61 margin.

The five regional sessions at Northern Michigan University last Thursday, Friday and Saturday drew a record of 26,500 persons, including an estimated 6,557 for the duel between undefeated Wakefield and L'Anse.

Gerry Gerard, the 6 foot 5 inch L'Anse center, closed out his four year basketball career with 1,706 points . . . That puts him eighth on the all-time Upper Peninsula scoring list behind Dom Jacobetti of Negaunee St. Paul, Jim Manning of Trout Creek, Bob Gale of Trout Creek, Ron Povolo of Hermansville, Bill Koski of Champion, Pat Groleau of Nahma, and John Kocinski of Alpha . . . Jacobetti, now Northern Michigan University athlete, is the all time U. P. scoring champion with 2,140 points.

When L'Anse and Wakefield put identical undefeated records on the line (20-0) in the U.P. Class C championship game, it marked only the second time in the nine year history of regional tournaments at Northern that two unbeaten teams had clashed in the finals . . . Trout Creek and Nahma did it first in Class F in 1959 with Coach Harold (Babe) Anderson's Arrows winning.

DeTour's Red Raiders were nipped by the narrowest of margins in the Class D regional finals at St. Ignace, bowing to downstate Cheboygan Catholic, 67-66, in overtime . . . DeTour's Darryl Olmsted hit on two free throws with 30 seconds to go to send the game into the extra period . . . Then Rick Ledy gave the Red Raiders a 66-65 lead with 10 seconds remaining in the overtime . . . But Chris Lindsay, who had already scored all five of Cheboygan's points in the extra stanza, hit the target at the buzzer for the slim victory.

Pistons Face Crucial Tilt

DETROIT (AP)—The Detroit Pistons playoff hopes may depend on a showdown battle with the Chicago Bulls tonight at the Cobo Arena.

The Pistons hold a one-half game edge over the Bulls for the final Western Division play-off berth with three games to play in the National Basketball Association.

The Bulls, who dropped a 119-96 decision to St. Louis Tuesday night, have two games to go, including tonight.

Rated Teams Still Going

DETROIT (AP)—Fifteen of the 40 top teams in the final Associated Press high school basketball poll, including No. 1 ranked South Haven in Class B and top-rated Ewen in Class D, still remain in the running for 1967 tournament titles.

In Class A, Detroit Pershing, rated fourth, appeared to have an inside track. The Doughboys knocked off No. 1 ranked Detroit Northwestern in the districts.

Flint Central, No. 7; Detroit Catholic Central, No. 8, and ninth-ranked Warren Fitzgerald remain in the running going into tonight's quarterfinals.

South Haven takes on fourth-rated and defending Class B champion Grand Rapids East Christian tonight. Lansing O'Rafferty, No. 5, and Willow Run, No. 6, also remain in the running.

Leslie, Mount Pleasant Sacred Heart and Wakefield all remain unbeaten in Class C, upholding their respective second, third and fourth ratings.

Behind Ewen in Class D, second-rated Flint St. Matthew remains unbeaten, followed by Adrian Catholic, No. 4, and Bay City St. Joseph, ranked ninth.

If the two end up in a tie a playoff game will be required to determine which teams moves into the playoffs. If the game is necessary, it will be played in Detroit.

"This has to be the biggest game we'll play all season," said Pistons' Coach Dennis Butcher. "It's nice to get help from the other clubs, but here's our one final chance to help ourselves against the team we must beat out."

St. Louis clinched at least a tie for second place in the Western Division and can wrap up the runner-up spot tonight with the help of the Philadelphia 76ers.

The Hawks gained the tie by whipping the Bulls, giving them a 38-41 record with two games to play compared to 35-43 for the third place Los Angeles Lakers, who have three games left.

The Lakers play host tonight to Philadelphia, already the Eastern Division champs. A defeat for the Lakers would assure St. Louis of second place behind the San Francisco Warriors, the Western Division champs.

Enroute to Los Angeles, the 76ers stopped in San Francisco and walloped the Warriors 139-110 in the only other NBA game scheduled Tuesday.

Four Spartan Grid Stars Selected In First Round

NEW YORK (AP) — "Kill, Buba, Kill," a football chant that thundered down from the stands at Michigan State games could become almost as popular in Baltimore as "Maryland, My Maryland."

Cheries (Bubba) Smith, a mammoth defensive end and college Lineman of the Year in 1966, was selected Tuesday by the Baltimore Colts as the initial pick of the first combined draft of the National and American football leagues.

Spurrier and Griese surprised

Minnesota got the most first round picks, three. Besides picking Clint Jones in the second spot, obtained from the New York Giants as part of a trade, and Washington in their assigned eighth spot, the Vikings also took defensive Alan Page of Notre Dame in the 15th spot because of a trade with Los Angeles.

But it is known that the Colts think highly of Jim Ward, a strong-armed youngster from Gettysburg who was on their fourth round when they took taxis last season. The Colts also need defensive linemen, and the 6-foot-7, 283-pound Smith has the credentials.

San Francisco's choice of Spurrier also raised some eyebrows since the 49ers have John Brodie and George Mira. But the acquisition of the Florida star certainly won't hurt the 49ers should they go into the trading market.

The five trades Tuesday:

—In the only AFL deal Buffalo traded quarterback Lamont, Bass and their third and fifth choices of the current draft to Oakland for Powell and quarterback Flores. Oakland drafted linebacker Bill Fairband of Colorado University and Stanford linebacker Mike Hbler.

—Los Angeles traded McKeever and its current No. 1 draft pick (Page) to Minnesota for Mason, Bedsole and a No. 2 choice, Willie Ellison, Texas Southern back.

—San Francisco traded flanker Casey, guard Jim Wilson and end Jim Norton to Atlanta for a first round draft choice (Spurrier).

—New York Giants traded linebacker Jerry Hillebrand to St. Louis for Tripiett.

—Pittsburgh traded Ballman to Philadelphia for Groe, guard Bruce Van Dyke and a third round selection, center Rockne Freitas of Oregon State.

March Madness Gains Fever Pitch Tonight

By The Associated Press

The annual March madness that is Michigan's high school basketball tournament reaches fever pitch tonight when the 32 survivors of the original field of 750 schoolboy quintets meet in the quarterfinals.

A group of 12 enthusiastic Mount Pleasant businessmen began dribbling a basketball towards Big Rapids at dawn, demonstrating support for Sacred Heart Academy which puts its 23-0 Class C record on the line at Big Rapids against Shelby, by 19-4.

The men worked in shifts of four to accomplish the 46-mile trip, then planned to root the Irish to victory.

But Shelby may prove a formidable opponent for Sacred Heart, with 6-foot-2 Bill Beckman carrying a 25-point scoring average and 6-7 sophomore Art Huston in the pivot.

Shelby Coach Jim Darrow, a former Bowling Green (Ohio) star, already has coached one team to a championship season. He was at the helm of the Muskegon Panthers which won the professional North American Basketball League title this year.

Sacred Heart, unbeaten this year, will counter with 6-6 center Mike Hackett and 6-5 forward Mike Funnell.

Every game in the quarterfinals was expected to be a tight contest.

"They're all tough at this stage of the game" said Coach Chuck Turner of Willow Run (17-3), whose team meets Mount Clemens Clintondale (20-1).

Wakefield Coach Jim Daniels thinks his Cardinals (21-0) have "an excellent chance" to go all the way after upsetting defending Class C champion L'Anse 70-59 for a regional title last week. The Cardinals are depending on Al Inkala and Rog Norkol, a transfer student from Newberry, to carry them to Lansing.

Menominee, with a 10-10 record, the dark horse in Class B, must dispose of Standish Sterling (18-4) to make its first trip to Lansing.

Ewen, with 6-9 Terry Conrad sweeping the boards, appeared the favorite in Class D. Ewen faces Cheboygan Catholic.

Centreville Coach Jon Wolcott who went to Lansing as a player for Barron Springs 11 years ago, hopes 18-year-old sophomore Al Andrews carries the Centreville Bulldogs to Jenison Fieldhouse this year. Andrews will pit his 6-0 frame against a small, but tough Adrian Catholic team led by Denny Drake who has a 17.2 tournament scoring average. So far, no tournament opponent has come within 17 points of Adrian Catholic.

The top Class A battle may be the Detroit Catholic Central-Hamtramck mack clash. Hamtramck's Cosmos haven't been to Lansing since 1969 when an after-the-guzzer basket cost them the state title. The Cosmos made themselves the sentimental favorite by nipping previously unbeaten Birmingham Groves 70-68 in four overtimes for a regional title last week.

Earlier this month the school group upheld a previous decision by conference athletic directors that Illinois fire the three coaches or show cause why the school shouldn't have its membership in the conference suspended or terminated.

Dr. Henry called the Big Ten order "too harsh" and has since been fighting for the coaches who were involved in the slush fund from which certain athletes drew from $15 to $50 a month in illegal aid.

The day after the faulty representatives ordered Illinois to dismiss the coaches, five Illinois athletes were declared permanently ineligible and three others were handed one-year suspensions.

The slush fund was exposed by the university itself last December and the report to the Big Ten was made by Dr. Henry.

A modern medical facility staffed around the clock is in place to care for air defense personnel. Sleeping facilities are built into the complex. A dining facility is also operated on a continuous basis.

If necessary, the entire complex could "button up" and remain self-sufficient in all areas for more than a month.

Ten Year Program

It was less than 10 years ago that this whole engineering marvel was in the conference and planning stage. In January of 1958, Gen. Earle E. Partridge, NORAD's first commander in chief, told his staff that a new, underground combat operations center was needed, and preliminary planning began.

The mounting of the buildings on coil springs of three-inch diameter rod, acting in concert with hydraulic shock dampers, will stabilize the "bounce" that can be expected from blast or from earth tremors.

There are 937 of these coiled springs under the 11 buildings. They are visible from the outside and, free standing, are 47 inches in height and 24 inches in diameter.

Once inside one of the buildings, the visitor feels the return of a certain sense of normalcy. Inside, these are no different from any other windowless office buildings.

Contract for the excavation was awarded to the Utah Construction & Mining Co. of San Francisco. First blasting began May 25, 1961. Each blast used about 1,000 pounds of powder and loosened some 250 cubic yards of rock. After the muck was removed, rock bolts were installed.

The Continental Consolidated Corp. of Jacksonville, Fla., was awarded the $6,969,000 contract for erecting the buildings, and construction began in March 1963, under the supervision of the Army Corps of Engineers, Omaha District. Graes-Wallace, Inc., of Den-
